This is a European spec 50Hz unit complete with control cabinet plus a spare control cabinet. Year Of Manufacture 2012 This is a brand new zero hours set. It has never been installed on a vessel. It has spent its life as a showroom model and used for boatshows and skipper expo displays. There are some cosmetic paint blemishes and the control cabinet has suffered some impact damage to one corner of the steel casing but no damage to the components. We have a second complete spare cabinet with damage in the same place and one broken switch. All internals are complete and in good order. The cabinets were always vulnerable to forklift damage when being moved around at shows hence why there are two of them, both with similar damage.
